Supply Pastor's Ramblings

Dani Veenstra

"Be Still and Know that I am God" Psalm 46:10

How often this verse runs through my head, always while I am busy doing something I think is vitally important; house cleaning, gardening, sweeping the deck, checking Facebook one more time. Each of these activities are solitary and relatively quiet, but none of them really involve being still in a way that opens my inner being to the presence of the Divine. I am still thinking about the task at hand, the results, the latest Instant Message or Meme. The book of Psalms covers the range of emotions and thoughts we humans experience in our daily lives, joy, sorrow, anger, loneliness, fear, frustration with a God who doesn't show up at our bidding. Perhaps this verse or at least the first two words of this verse gives us a clue to tapping into a larger awareness of Holiness in the every day. "Be still" tough for a lot of us, we are too busy, too important, too tired to simply BE.

I challenge each of you to find three minutes each day to just BE, no expectations, no agenda, no task at hand, just BE. Sit, in stillness and simply listen to your own breath, feel it moving down into your lungs and surging back out again to join with the breath of every other human that lives on this earth. Just BE for a few minutes, and just maybe God will show up so you can get to know the God who sees you as beloved just as you are, just as you BE.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR FUTURE PASTOR, Rev John Doud

To my new Cadillac Congregational Family:

Catherine and I acknowledge great appreciation for your warm and enthusiastic welcome and luncheon in late March, as well as the music program and dinner in late April during the United Northern Association spring meeting. Now that we have signed our Covenant Agreement, Pat McCurdy thought it appropriate for me to provide you with a dissertation regarding the John Doud vision of ministry at the First Congregational Church of Cadillac. Due to recent cataract issues, my vision is blurred, so it appears as if I'm going to need every single one of you as partners in ministry to help see my way through.

In our several meetings at church and at the After 26 Café, it has become quite apparent to me that this marvelous congregation is populated by shepherds rather than sheep. Therefore, as shepherd leaders, we will: write our own covenant; brainstorm regarding building a community of faith with educational programs for children, youth, and adults; continue to expand the marvelous music program, directed by the versatile talents of Rachel Whiteman and Margie Annis; and persist in providing uplifting Sunday worship led by all the ministers of First Congregational, Cadillac. Above all, and probably of greatest significance, we will follow Jesus by establishing ourselves as a caring congregation, bringing joy and acceptance and embrace not only to those who enter the doors of our building, but also to those outside of our physical structure through various outreach ministries (Love, INC; After 26 Café; OASIS; Church World Service; New Hope; Feeding America; Neighbors In Need; Project Christmas; Salvation Army; Stehouwer Free Clinic; Shepherd's Table; and One Great Hour of Sharing). This means we will walk together through both the valley of shadows and the hills of delight, knowing loved ones surround us, God is always there beside us, and strength resides within us to help us meet any challenge that comes our way.

After the two year pastoral search, I am very grateful and humbled for the many hours of work conducted by your Pastoral Search Committee, and to eventually have been selected by you, the congregation of the First Congregational Church of Cadillac, Michigan. It will indeed be a privilege serving under your leadership over the next year and years. Thank you for being a concerned and caring, welcoming and inclusive congregation. In the meantime, the words of Rabindranath Tagore anticipate our life journey together: "To you, my friends, love, light, and laughter!"

- John

Pastor John will be joining us here on Tuesday August 18th. Until then, Supply Pastor Dani Veenstra will continue in her much appreciated service to this congregation.

MISSIONS

Backpack Program – Tom Jobson

In the Cadillac Area Public schools there are close to four hundred students who qualify, by state guidelines, for free or reduced-price lunches. Many of these students have a difficult time receiving proper nutrition when they are not in school. The Back Pack Program is designed to help meet the weekend food needs for these students.

Students who qualify for the program receive food the last day of the educational week—usually on Fridays. The children are given a bag filled with a variety of canned or dry food to be eaten over the weekend. This small bag of food will constitute most of the child's food intake— and sometimes for other members of the child's family— during the days the child won't be participating in the free lunch program.

This program is sponsored, and managed, by Cadillac's First Baptist Church and staffed by a variety of community volunteer workers. Feeding America Food Bank helps First Baptist acquire the food at a minimal cost, but even so it is an enormous burden for just one church to bear. Additional donated funds are needed to continue this program week after week. Any contribution you can make this month, to this mission target for July, will be greatly appreciated.
